STILL ANOTHER CONVICTION TAMMANY'S RECKLESSNESS.

MR. WELLMAN'S SUCCESS WITH THE CONTRACTORS DAMAGE THE CRIBWORK ELECTION CASES.

MICHAEL S. FAY, AN ALLEGED REPUBLICAN NO CARE TAKEN IN THE DISPOSITION OF INSPECTOR, FOUND GUILTY-OTHER DE-FENDANTS LIKELY TO PLEAD.

Assistant District-Attorney Wellman yesterday | As predicted in The Tribune a fortnight ago, the Jean. He was an inspector in the Nineteenth without earning it. The Dock Department cor Election District of the Hd Assembly District. The chairman of the board, J. A. Dooley, was convicted on Tuesday. In this election district, 271 votes were canvassed for Maynard, and none for Bartlett. The entire number of men registered was 271, and several swore they did not vote at all. The other Republican candidates received eight votes, according to the canvass. That Bartlett should have received not one is sufficient evidence of fraud. Besides, eleven men swore they cast straight Republican ballots. The explanation is that the Tammany captains of the Hd Assembly District understood that Police Justice Divver had offered handsome prizes to those of them who would, in their election districts, roll up the largest percentage of votes for Maynard. Several zealous men were tid in the competition, as they did not allow the canvassing of a solitary Bartlett

It was impossible to prove before the Grand Jury that Divver had offered these prizes. He himself did not deny having done so at one time, but now all his henchmen have beeen instructed to say that they had no positive knowledge that such offers were made. Questions put in the various election trials have not elicited any answers implicating the police justice, although several men have declared that they heard of

A LINE OF VICTORIES.

Mr. Wellman is having remarkable success in these trials. He has secured thirteen convictions, including pleas of guilty, and there has not been a single acquittal or a disagreement of a jury. There will doubtless be other pleas of guilty tomorrow, as the accused men must recognize the

Mr. Walsh, who was counsel for Dooley also, hen addressed the jury for the defence. He then addressed the jury for the defence. He said that Fay was a Republican watcher at the colls, and that it would be absurd to suppose he would have done anything to injure the chances of Bartlett, the Republican candidate. Fay then took the stand. He testified that he saw no fraud committed. He did not know whence the extra Maynard votes came. He believed the canvass to be true.

THE CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Mr. Wellman asked him:

"Now can you tell us what became of the ten traight Republican votes?" Mr. Walsh, who was counsel for Dooley also, then addressed the jury for the defence. He said that Fay was a Republican watcher at the polls, and that it would be absurd to suppose he would have done anything to injure the chances of Bartlett, the Republican candidate. Fay then took the stand. He testified that he saw no fraud committed. He did not know whence the extra Maynard votes came. He believed the canvass to be true.

"Isn't that a funny question, Mr. Wellman?" replied the witness.

"I don't see anything funny about it. Answer the question," insisted Mr. Weliman.

St. Paul's College is one of the most successful institutions of learning established in the East by American missionary funds, its purpose being to educate Japanese young men to the ministry among their own people. For a long time the work of the college has been carried on in a building wholly inadequate, and it has lately been pronounced unsafe and likely to collapse altogether at the shock of the first of the not infrequent earthquakes which visit that country. Mr. Tyng's object in coming to America at this time is to raise the necessary funds, about $44,000, with which to put up new buildings for the college.

It is true that the Dock Department extended the time to February 1, but that time, too, has passed by a full month. The Controller's engineer, who examined the cribwork, reported that he found it in a deplorable condition. The outer end of the crib had shifted on the soft mud bottom and gives intop and rear, as the dumping goes on, it will be pushed still further out into the river. This condition, it is charged by the inspecting officer, has dition, it is charged by the inspecting officer, has been caused by the uneven loading of the structure by piling great quantities of street cleaning material upon and at the back of the crib.

As The Tribune has before pointed out, the scows should have been unloaded from the outside, and in the specifications drawn by President Barker and approved by the Controller and the Board of Estimate it is expressly provided that the meterial shall be so unloaded and that care shall be taken to distribute it evenly behind the cribwork, so that the pressure at vital points of the structure shall be even. But no attention has been paid to these directions by Dalley. In the language of the examining engineer: "The pressure from above and behind has pushed the foot of the crib out, so that the inclination of its face from the perpendicular is now more than double the inclination it was designed to have." The cause is the reckless way in which the street-sweepings are piled high and unevenly upon the crib.

"It looks to me." said an old-time official yesterday, "as if Andrews and Dalley had gone in to ruin the Riker's Island cribwork so that they may break up the project of carrying the street material there, and fix the business to suit themselves. There is $240,000 of an appropriation for final disposition of street-cleaning material and these fellows are determined to have it. Mr. Barker's specifications have tied them up so tight that there is nothing in it for them if the contract is let under them."

To the contractor of the cribwork has already been paid about $40,000 on the work, which is likely morrow, as the accused men must recognize the futility of any defence.

TALK ABOUT THE APPOINTMENT AS COM-MISSIONER MACLEAN'S CLERK OF H. P. OKIE, COUNCEL FOR THE CITY CLUB.

Howard P. Okle, who was appointed clerk to Police Commissioner MacLean on Tuesday, in place of Richard W. Ryan, resigned, was formerly counsel for the City Club. Mr. Okie said yester day that he resigned the office of counsel of the City Club on Tuesday. The appointment of Mr. Okie caused much comment around Police Headquarters yesterday, When Mr. MacLean proposed Okic's appointment at Tues-day's meeting of the Board it was not known day's meeting of the Board it was not known who Okle was. Yesterday it became generally known, however, that Mr. MacLean's new clerk was a lawyer who has been counsel for the City Club a long time. It is known that Okle, in his capacity as counsel for the City Club, has been at work collecting evidence of alleged corruption against the police, and it is said that he has in his possession many affidavits damaging to the police, Okle, it has been understood, was to be one of the chief witnesses before the Senate Committee to investigate the Police Department. Another thing in connection with Okle's appointment that is the subject of much talk is the shortness of the term for which he has been appointed. Commissioner MacLean's term expires in May, and his clerk will retire with him.

None of the Police Commissioners except Mr. MacLean himself knew of Okle's connection with the City Club until yesterday. President Martin, when spoken to about the matter, said:

"Commissioner MacLean recommended Okle, and the other members of the Board voted for his appointment. I do not know at the time that he was or had been counsel for the City Club, but if I had known it it would have made no difference. So far as the intimation that he was put here to get information about the Police Department is concerned. I do not believe there is any truth in the report." who Okle was. The smallpox scare at the Custom House has blown over. As the employe who has the disease was not at the Custom House for several days before the symptoms of the disease were developed, no fear is felt among the other employes. Several other cases in various parts of the city were discovered yesterday.

A NEW LINE OF CAMPAIGN.

THE PARKHURST SOCIETY PROCEEDING AGAINST OWNERS OF PROPERTY USED FOR DIS-ORDERLY PURPOSES.

The complaints which the Parkhurst society laid before the Grand Jury on Monday were directed against two owners of property who are charged with knowingly leasing it for immoral purposes. Convictions have already been secured here on such charges, and it is believed that these prosecutions will be a great help to the society in its work.

Police Captain Price was a witness yesterday be fore the Grand Jury, and so were the men against whom the complaints were levelled. This unusual course of hearing the defendants' side was followed to give the men an opportunity to explain that they did not know the uses to which their houses had been put. The investigation was not finished. Captain Moses W. Cartwright, of the Eldridge-st.

CHANGES TO BE MADE AT GRACE CHURCH.

AN INCREASE IN THE SIZE OF THE CHOIR MAKES ADDITIONS AND ALTERATIONS NECESSARY.

now existing have already been made and will be carried into effect at once.

An addition is to be made to the building at the east end of the church and in the rear of the chancel. When this is completed it will become the room for the men and boys, twenty-two in number, who will compose the chancel choir. This new building will be con-structed directly back of the chancel and will have an inside measurement of twenty-four feet in length, seventeen feet six inches in width and sixteen feet in height. It will not be of sufficient height to obscure the light which passes through the beautiful stained glass windows behind the altar. The addition will cost about $6,000.

glass windows behind the altar. The addition will cost about $6,000.

If the experiment of two choirs, the one of men and boys in the chancel and one of men and women in the gallery, proves successful in the minds of the congregation, other changes in the conformation of the church will probably be made. These will consist in the widening of the chancel platform on either side, the shifting of the keyboard of the lower organ, which now stands on the south side of the platform, and some other minor alterations.

The work of tearing de win the buildings on the block bounded by First-ave. East Thirteenth-st. and East Fourteenth-st. upon which the corporation of Grace Parish will erect its new group of parachal fastitutions, has just begun. The process of demolition will continue as rapidly as possible, so that work or the new structures may be undertaken in the spring. The new buildings will consist of a chapel, hospital, parish-house and Sunday-school, boys' club and clergy house.

Postmaster Dayton announces that this morning two retail and two wholesale windows will be opened in the front of the building adjoining the lockbox section, where the public can procure stamps, cards, etc., at all hours of the day and night.

The space for these four new stamp windows was obtained by taking out the old lock boxes and replacing them with a new pattern. Postmaster Dayton said: "To the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, William E. Curtis, and to the Supervising Architect, Jeremiah O'Rourke, this office is hedebted for this great improvement. I cannot speak too cordially or enthusiastically regarding the attention those gentlemen have given to the betterment of this long neglected building."
